

BIELSKO BIAŁA, 17th-19th APRIL 2015
8th edition
of one of the biggest free-admittance
Open Source conferences
in Europe

Open Source Days is a free-admittance conference aimed at enthusiasts of open source solutions and individuals interested in using this type of software in business.

Since 2006 the conference has been annually held in Bielsko-Biała, Poland gathering usually over 400 people: teenagers, university students as well as IT specialists.

Taking part in the conference you have a chance to meet intriguing people, create good impression of an IT company in the eyes of young people interested in information technology, and last but not least to spend three days exchanging experiences and plumb the mysteries of Open Source.
